

QUICKBOOKS WEB CONNECTOR

QWCLOG.TXT file

QuickBooks Web Connector is a Microsoft Windows Web-based applications to allows data exchange with QuickBooks Desktop. QBWC supports passing QBXML and QBPOSXML between a web-based application. QBWC can communicate easily for the user as downloading a file.

Once user encounters any Web Connector error, QuickBooks can't exchange data from third-party web-based application.

Some QuickBooks Web Connector Error Code

QBWC1005 & QBWC1006: QuickBooks Web Connector failed to run

QBWC1007, QBWC1008, QBWC1009: Error when connecting to QuickBooks

QBWC1011: Application named does not exist in registry

QBWC1022, QBWC1023, & QBWC1024: Error when connecting to QuickBooks

QBWC1012: Authentication failed, Server was unable to process request

QBWC1033: Web connector failed to initialize QWCLog.txt file

QBWC1040: Web Connector did not provide a valid username and/or password

QBWC1048: Could not verify the web application server

QBWC1085: QuickBooks was unable to write to the log file

QBWC1016 & QBWC1019: No application was selected and unselect for update

Causes

QWCLOG.TXT gets damaged or corrupt

Damage web connector program

QBWCLOG.TXT file is missing

Steps to Fix QuickBooks Web Connector Error

1 Enable QuickBooks Web Connector

Press Windows + R key

Type msconfig in the Run window.msconfig command

Hit OK and click the Startup tab

Find and check mark the QuickBooks Web Connector

Click Apply and OK

Restart Windows

2 Rename QWCLOG.TXT File

Right-click on QuickBooks Web Connector icon

Select Exit.QuickBooks Web Connector icon

Open Windows File Manager and navigate to C:\ProgramData\Intuit\QBWebConnector\log folder

Right click on QWCLOG.TXT file and select Rename

Enter QWCLOGOLD.TXT and save

Restart the Web Connector

Try using QBWC

